

CONTENTS

Introduction

Why This Book Is Unique Among Other Books on This Topic	1
The Longitudinal Practical Knowledge and Longitudinal Review of Literature That Went into Writing This Book	2
Bill Ribas's Experience with Educator Evaluation	2
Carol Gregory's Experience with Educator Evaluation	4
Overview of the Contents of This Book	6
Administrator Evaluation	9
Conclusion	9

1 Supervision, Evaluation, and Professional Learning for the 21st Century 11

Five Myths of Educator Supervision, Evaluation, and Professional Learning	11
Defining and Redefining Key Terms Related to Supervision, Evaluation, and Professional Learning	13
The Evolution of Educator Supervision, Evaluation, and Development Systems	15
The 'Teach the Way I Teach' Era	15
The Checklist Era	16
The Chronological Narrative Era	17
The Era of Using Pre- and Post-Conferences to Understand Educators' Instructional and Clinical Decisions	19
The Era of Chunked by Standard (or Benchmarks of the Standard) Evaluation Write-Ups	20
The Era of Differentiating Supervision and Evaluation Based on Educators' Professional Maturity	22
The 360-Degree Evaluation Era	24
The Era of Professional Growth Cycle Model	24
Supervision, Evaluation, and Development Change Cycle	25
Stages of Mastery of Professional Practice	25
Professional-Learning Change Cycle	28
Road Blocks to Evaluators' Providing Adequate Coaching After Professional Learning Workshops	30
Entering the Change Cycle at the Assessment Phase	32
Conclusion	33
References	33
Evaluating Administrators	33
Standards and Indicators of Effective Administrative Leadership	40
School-Level Administrator Rubric 2018	40
References for Evaluating Administrators	59

2 The Educational, Social, Emotional, and Procedural (ESEP) Components of Supervision, Evaluation, and Professional Learning Systems 61

Educational Components	64
Social and Emotional Components	66
Understanding Anxiety Reactions	69
Evaluators' Anxiety	71
Social-Emotional Support for the Educator	73
Social-Emotional Support for the Evaluator	75
Social-Emotional Skills Educators Must Develop to Be More Effective	77
Know Thyself	78
Five Areas of Social-Emotional Learning (SEL)	78
Self-Awareness	78
Self-Management	81
Social Awareness	85
Relationship Management	89
Responsible Decision-Making	92
Procedural Component	95
Conquering the Educational, Social, Emotional, and Procedural (ESEP)	96
Self-Awareness and Self-Management	98
Social Awareness, Relationship, and Responsible Decision-Making Skills	99
Conclusion	101
References	101

3 Classroom and Other Workspace Observations 103

Purpose of Observations	104
Communicating the Types of Observations to Educators	104
1. Full-Period Observation for Traditional 45–55-Minute Lesson Block or Full Clinical Block	105
2. Full-Period Observation for Extended Period Blocks	105
3. Partial-Period Observations for the Extended Period Blocks	105
4. Short Observations	106
5. Intermediate-Length Observations	109
6. Consecutive-Day Observations	109
7. Extended Observations	110
8. Focused Observations	110
9. Comprehensive Observations	112
10. Announced Observations	112
11. Unannounced Observations	113
12. Observations of More Than One Educator at a Time	113
13. Observations of Duties and Other Non-Teaching and Non-Clinical Functions	114

Analyzing Observations and Converting Evidence to Standard/Benchmark, Judgment, Evidence, Impact Statements, and Recommendations	114
Standard/Benchmark	115
The Case for Specificity in Oral and Written Feedback to Educators.	118
Judgment	119
Explicit vs. Implicit Judgments	120
Evidence	122
Data, Evidence, Information	123
Converting Evidence to the Standard/Benchmark, Judgment, Evidence, Impact Statement, and Recommendation Format (SJEIR)	124
Impact Statements	126
Writing Impact Statements	127
Recommendations	129
Constructions of Recommendations	133
The Importance of Effectively and Frequently Commending Educators' Good Performance So Recommendations are Received Well by Educators.	129
Characteristics of the Most Effective Praise.	131
Suggestion and Direction Recommendations	135
Recommendations That Tell an Educator What to Do, How to Do It, When to Do It, and Offer Assistance in Implementation	139
Five Key Messages and Examples of SJEIR Paragraphs	141
Using Self-Analysis Questions in Place of a Suggestion Recommendation	144
Written Feedback About Observations	145
Forms for Written Communication of the SJEIR	147
Context Paragraphs	148
Purely Narrative Observation Forms	148
Observation Write-up Example 1: Pure Narrative Observation Write-up	150
Rubric Forms with Check-off and Narrative	152
Camelot Public Schools Educator Performance Rubric for All General Education, Special Education, and Other Teachers	153
Teacher Performance Standards (All General and Special Education Teachers)	154
Checklist Forms: Short and Hybrid	175
Conclusion	179
Administrator Evaluation	179
Sample SJEIR Paragraphs for Administrators.	181

4 Gathering Data 185

Observation Data-Gathering Method 1: Effective Practice Checklists	186
Observation Data-Gathering Method 2: Scripting Literal Notes	189
Two-Column Note-Taking	190
Developing Your Note-taking Skills Rubric	202
One Column Note-taking.	222
Three Column Note-taking.	222
Abbreviations	222

Observation Data-Gathering Method 3: Charts	225
Data-Gathering with Seating Charts	225
Data-Gathering with On-Task/Off-Task Charts	225
Data-Gathering with Positive-Reinforcement Charts	228
Observation Data-Gathering Method 4: Pictures	229
Observation Data-Gathering Method 5: Videos of the Lesson	231
Observation Data-Gathering Method 6: Pre-Conference with Lesson/Clinical Service Plan Provided Prior to Announced Observation	232
Observation Data-Gathering Method 7: Audio Recordings	233
Self-Assess Your Written Feedback	233
Conclusion	235
Evaluating Administrators' Classroom and Other Workspace Observations	236
Observing Faculty or Department Meetings.	236
Building Visits and Other Observations	237

5 Sources of Observable and/or Verifiable Evidence and Information 239

Data, Evidence, and Information	240
Triangulation	240
Data Sources	243
Time-Saving Tips for Supervisors and Evaluators	270
Time-Saving Strategies	272
Conclusion	282
References	283
Evaluating Administrators' Sources of Observable and/or Verifiable Evidence Used to Make a 360-Degree Assessment of the Educator's Performance	291

6 Writing Formative (a.k.a. interim) and Summative Evaluations 297

Formative Evaluations	297
Reasons Why Districts Should Have Formative Evaluations	298
How Formative Evaluation Forms Differ From Summative Evaluation Forms	299
Formative Evaluation as a Check by the Evaluator on the Evaluator's Evidence-Gathering	300
Summative Evaluations	316
Camelot Public Schools Summative Evaluation Form Based on the Teacher Performance Rubric for All General Education and Special Education Teachers	318
Performance Standards	319
Conclusion	347
References	347

Typical Social-Emotional (SEL) Reactions When Conferencing with an Educator	350
Social-Emotional Reactions to Commendations	350
Social-Emotional Reactions to Recommendations for Improvement	353
What Is a Conference and Why Do We Have Them?	358
Beginning-of-the-Cycle Planning and Expectations Conference	358
Short, Impromptu Post-Observation Conference	360
Educator Interview Conference	361
Pre-Observation Conference	363
Pre-Observation Forms	365
Scheduled Post-Observation Conference	371
Using Concise Language Categories to Give Feedback to Educators	372
Praise	372
Recommendations	375
Descriptive Feedback	376
Preparing for the Post-Observation or Educator-Interview Conference	379
Three-Way Conference	383
Formative Evaluation Conference	384
Status Report Conference	385
Summative Evaluation Conference	385
Conferences with Multiple Educators	386
Types of Conference Questions	387
The Stages of Effective Conferences	389
Stage 1: Preparation	390
Stage 2: Be Clear About What We Want to Achieve and the Amount of Time Needed to Achieve Our Objectives	390
Stage 3: Choosing the Location	391
Stage 4: Door Openers	391
Stage 5: Passive Listening and Acknowledgment Responses	392
Stage 6: Active Listening	393
Stage 7: Generating Solutions for Areas in Need of Improvement	394
Stage 8: Expanding the Agenda if Needed	394
Stage 9: Closing the Gap between the Evaluator's and the Educator's Perception of Performance	395
Stage 10: Concluding the Discussion	396
Implementing the Stages of a Conference with Short Scheduled and/or Impromptu Conferences	397
Stage 1: Preparation, Including Time and Objectives	397
Stage 2: Location	398
Stage 3: Door Openers in Short and Impromptu Conferences	398
Stage 4: Description of Feedback and Solutions	399
Stage 5: Passive and Active Listening	399
Stage 6: If Needed, Schedule Further Discussion	399
Stage 7: Concluding the Conference	399

Online and Telephone Conferences	400
Sample Interview/Conference Questions	401
Conference Questions for Classroom Instruction	401
School Clinical Professional Conference Questions	404
Conclusion	406
References	406
Evaluating Administrators: Conferences that Create Change	407
Conference Questions for Administrative Practice	410

8 District-Level Systems for Training, Coaching, and Assessing Effective Programs of Supervision and Evaluation 415

Training (Developing) Supervisors and Evaluators	424
The “Archaeological Dig”	424
Pre-Assessing Skills of Supervisors and Evaluators	426
Pitford Public Schools Supervision and Evaluation Implementation and Training
Needs Assessment	428
Section 1: Background, Purpose, and Methodology	428
Section 2: Instructions and Clarifications Related to Procedures and Standards	429
Section 3: Training Skills Needs Assessment	430
Part I: Classroom/Clinical Workspace Observations	433
Part II: Final (Summative, Formative, End-of-Year) Evaluation Reports	435
Part III: Miscellaneous	437
Part IV: Supervising/Evaluating Does Not Meet and Barely Meets Standard Tenured (Professional Teacher Status) Teachers Using Progressive Discipline	438
Explanation of the “Pitford Training Summary Spreadsheet”	440
Calibration Training	440
Pitford Conclusion	441
How Do I Apply the Pitford Example to My District?	442
Assessing and Reteaching the Implementation of Supervision and Evaluation Skills in Your District	450
Six Steps to Ensure District-Wide Effective Supervision and Evaluation	450
District Structures and Supports to Create Cultures That Value Accurate Assessment of Teachers’ Performance and Embrace Recommendations for Improvement Resulting from the Teacher Supervision, Evaluation, and Development Process	454
Case Studies of District Change	462
Conclusion	464
References	464
Addendum A: District Results from File Cabinet Assessment	465
Addendum B: File Cabinet Assessment	468
Criteria for Feedback Given to Educators after a Lesson or Clinical Service Observation or Artifact Review	468
The Evaluator	468

Summary	474
Town of Somewhere Administrative Staff Average Ratings in Criteria for Effective Summative Evaluation Write-ups.	491
References for Addendums A and B	496
Administrator Evaluation	497
Guided Observations	497
Small-Group Coaching	498
9 The Educators' Association/Union Perspective	501
<hr/>
The Association/Union President's Dilemma	503
Do Teachers' Association/Union Leaders Defend and Protect Bad Teachers?	507
The Changing Landscape of Educator Evaluation	509
Cycle of Dysfunctional Supervision, Evaluation, and Development.	510
Labor-Management Collaboration	510
Peer Assistance and Review (PAR) Programs	516
How Does PAR (Peer Assistance and Review) Work?	520
Peer Assistance and Review (PAR) Panel Members Responsibilities, Anytown School District.	526
Job Description: Consulting Educator.	530
Labor-Management Collaboration When PAR Is Not an Option for the District	531
Conclusion	536
References	536
Appendices	501
<hr/>
SJEIR Paragraph Bank for Direct Instruction	501
SJEIR Paragraph Bank for Clinical Service Providers	550
Connection Document of Observable Behaviors	573
Ribas Associates Nurse Rubric at a Glance	601